DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of species 2 in the reply filed on 9/11/06 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
2. Claim 53 is withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 9/11/06.
3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.
5. Claims 38-44 and 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 38-44 and 54 specify a feedback corrector. By definition, the word "feedback" implies that the output from this corrector will modify its input(s). As shown in Fig. 12 and the corresponding description in the specification as originally filed, the corrector (44,46) would modify the signals in forward path, and would not modify its inputs (such as signals before 38 and 39). The feedback corrector specified by claims 38-44 and 54 is different from what is being disclosed in the specification. Therefore, applicant fails to provide adequate description on the invention as specified in claims 38-44 and 54.

6. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

7. Claims 38-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Where applicant acts as his or her own lexicographer to specifically define a term of a claim contrary to its ordinary meaning, the written description must clearly redefine the claim term and set forth the uncommon definition so as to put one reasonably skilled in the art on notice that the applicant intended to so redefine that claim term. Process Control Corp. v. HydReclaim Corp., 190 F.3d 1350, 1357, 52 USPQ2d 1029, 1033 (Fed. Cir. 1999). The term "feedback" in claims 38-44 is used by the claim to mean "feedforward", while the accepted meaning is "to go back to the input(s)." The term is indefinite because the specification does not clearly redefine the term.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

9. Claim 54 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kondo et al (US005867815A).

In view of 112, 1st and 2nd paragraph rejections above, the claim has been rejected under broadest interpretation.

Regarding claim 54, Kondo et al (hereafter Kondo) disclose a method for optimizing playing of an audio program, which includes a preferred audio signal (voice) and a remaining audio signal (background), for end users, which includes both hearing impaired and non-hearing impaired listeners (although not clearly shown, the general population includes both hearing impaired and non-hearing impaired people), comprising: amplifying (by 24) the preferred audio signal to a level specified by a user; amplifying (by 25) the remaining audio signal to a level specified by the user; and modifying (by 27) the outputs of the preferred audio signal amplification step and the remaining audio amplification step using a correction loop so that an actual preferred audio signal to remaining audio signal (PSRA) ratio corresponds to the user's desired value of the preferred audio signal to remaining audio signal (PSRA) ratio (col. 4, lines 19-24).
